How we manage complaints:

Each complaint will be addressed in an equitable, objective and unbiased manner through the complaints handling process. The principles of objectivity include:

Openness; to ensure everyone understands the complaints handling process

Impartiality; to ensure a balanced consideration of all information before a complaint can be resolved without fear or favour

Confidentiality; to ensure that information regarding everyone involved is protected

Accessibility; to ensure all involved are aware of the complaints handling process and the lodged complaints progress

Completeness; to ensure all available information has been collected from both sides

Equity; to ensure everyone is treated equally

Sensitivity; to ensure each case is considered on its merits, paying due care to individual differences and needs

We want:

To achieve constructive outcomes for conflict situations

To ensure complaints and grievances are resolved with minimum stress to all concerned

To have a strong emphasis on problem solving

To resolve complaints, if possible, within five business days

At the end of every session we ask those present whether the session met everyone's expectations and if not, learn what we could do to improve it. If this process has not worked for you, you are welcome to follow the steps on the next page to give feedback or make a complaint.

A person can make a complaint to the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission about any issue connected with the support or services provided by an NDIS Provider.

Complaints can be made orally, in writing, or by any other appropriate means and can be made anonymously. A complaint can be withdrawn at any time.

If a person makes a complaint, the Commissioner must decide what to do. The Commissioner may decide to;

Take no action, or defer taking action in some cases (for example, if the complaint was not made in good faith or there is not enough information to continue); or

Help the complainant and other affected people to work with the NDIS provider to resolve the complaint; or undertake a resolution process.
